GO TO <http://www.lantronix.com/support/utils/redirector/index.html> for latest version.

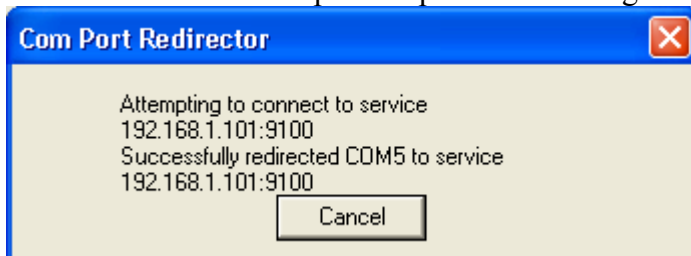

This is the main screen of the Lantronix redirector software. The “Add IP” button on the right was pressed and the IP/PORT 192.168.1.101/9100 was used and submitted for redirection. Next, it is absolutely essential to click the button “Port Settings” and select “Raw Mode” for the XPCOM1. After setting this up click the “Save” button and then use a program like terminal to open the port. A dialog will pop up saying a connection is being made and it clears automatically.

The “Port Settings” dialog.

When a redirected com-port is opened this dialog shows up.

When a redirected com-port is closed this dialog shows up.
